Army Engineers To Reconsider Marion County Road Changes

Reconsideration of Marion county road relocation in connection with the Delaware dam reservoir has been offered by the Army engineers seeking to reach agreement with the county commissioners over details of route changes.

Commissioners have refused to agree to the engineers' proposals to adjust certain routes in the dam area to an elevation of approximately 20 feet above the normal proposed level of the reservoir. They hold that the Waldo-Fulton road (county road 140) running east from Waldo across the upper reservoir area should be maintained at a level of 947 feet, top elevation of the dam, to guarantee year around freedom from flooding.

Two Conferences Fail

Two previous conferences held here between the commissioners and representatives of the district engineers' office at Huntington, W. Va., failed to produce agreement on the few alterations suggested by the engineers, including vacation of about three and a half miles of county roads in the vicinity of Norton.

Commissioners refused to commit themselves on any federal proposal, pending settlement of the Waldo-Fulton road controversy.

Now, Huntington officials offer to restudy the road relocation program "giving full consideration" to the commissioners' proposal that the road in question be maintained at the 947-foot elevation. Engineers ask to be furnished requirements in connection with the proposed relocations and justification for the position taken by the commissioners.

Commissioners State Reasons

A letter replying to the Army engineers' request was forwarded to Huntington this week by the commissioners. The commissioners state in part:

"Our main reason is to keep this road (the Waldo-Fulton road) open to traffic on account of its being used so extensively by the schools, churches, farmers and in fact everyone in or adjacent to Waldo.

"It might interest you to know that at the present time petitions are being circulated in Waldo asking that this road never be flooded, so you readily see that the people of Waldo must feel as we do and are taking the same stand as we are in asking that the road be elevated to 947."

Engineers Set Lower Level

The engineers' proposal was to maintain the Waldo-Fulton road at a 935 elevation. Normal or summer pool level in the reservoir has been set at 915 feet. Engineers also proposed to maintain state route 229 which runs across the reservoir from Ashley to Norton at the 935 elevation.

The commissioners also proposed, at the suggestion of the county engineer's office, that state route 229 be altered to run north along the east side of the reservoir, joining the Waldo-Fulton road at the upper end of the reservoir. This proposal would have to be approved by the state highway department which has declined to consider the proposal until it had progressed further with its own negotiations with the Army engineers on reservoir road relocation plans.

Young Appeal Notice Filed

Attorney Michel Takes First Step To Carry Case to Higher Court.

The case of Edwin D. Young now serving a life sentence in Ohio penitentiary for the murder of Mrs. Zora Gerbes will go before the Third district court of appeals.

Notice of appeal and accompanying brief was filed by Young's attorney Paul D. Michel in common pleas court today. The bill of exceptions which accompanies the appeal was entered into the record Thursday afternoon.

The court of appeals will sit in Marion county common pleas court April 13 but in view of the short time remaining it is doubtful if the Young appeal will be heard at that time.

Reed to File Brief

County Prosecutor James E. Reed indicated today that the brief for the state defending the verdict of the court here would be filed as soon as possible, hoping to get the appeal heard in the session of the court of appeals.

Young was found guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy on Feb. 26. His attorney filed motion for a new trial March 1, the motion being denied by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith March 3.

When the court of appeals judges review the case they will have the transcript of proceedings at the trial and in addition will have the briefs filed by the opposing attorneys.

Opportunity for Argument

Each attorney is given opportunity to argue his case before the three-judge court. A decision will be rendered after the court has considered the record and any other argument brought before the court of appeals by the attorneys.

The court may uphold the verdict given in common pleas court or may reverse the decision, reducing the offense. The court has the power also to order a new trial.

Attorney Michel's motion for a new trial and appeal are aimed at securing a reduction in the offense from first degree murder to a lesser charge alleging the state did not prove first degree murder.

Workers Go Over Top In Red Cross Campaign

Red Cross Goal	25,985.00
Reported	26,002.02
Quota oversubscribed	17.02

Marion city and county residents contributed $26,002.02 to top the 1948 quota in the National Red Cross Campaign Fund drive by $17.02, it was reported today by John W. Watters, campaign chairman. The local quota was $25,985.

There are still more subscriptions to be received, Mr. Watters said in reporting the results of something more than three weeks of ringing doorbells and knocking on doors by several hundred volunteer workers in the annual campaign.

The residential district in which the teams were made up of women headed by Mrs. W. A. Dennis, topped their quota as did the national stores with Harry Margwarth as chairman, and business, headed by Ralph Shick, chairman. Industrial workers, with David Pollak as chairman, met their quota of $4,945.

In the county Pleasant and Prospect townships topped their quotas and three townships, Green Camp, Grand and Waldo are yet to be heard from.

Complete reports are yet to be made from county workers and in the city the advance gifts workers, headed by Harold J. Grigsby have additional reports to make. Delays in the advanced gifts division are due to some persons being out of the city, the workers explain, and it is expected the quota will be reached within a matter of days.

Thanks Solicitors

Appreciation of the generosity of the subscribers and the untiring efforts of the volunteer workers was expressed today by Mr. Watters and Charlton Myers, chapter chairman. FORCED RAILROAD LAYOFFS REPORTED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 26—The Chesapeake and Ohio railway has laid off 12,490 employes and next Wednesday's government-ordered freight curtailment may send the total to about 15,000, the road's headquarters here reported today.

The Nickel Plate road, already hard hit by walkouts in the coal and meat industries, reported work schedule cuts equivalent to the furloughing of 600 railroaders. But only one short Nickel Plate passenger run was affected by Monday's 25 per cent passenger service cut ordered by the office of defense transportation to conserve coal.

On the Erie Railroad Co., 95 employes have been laid off and notices have been posted for 450 more who will be idle next week if the volume of freight handled continues to drop because of the mines shutdown.

D. H. Barber, Erie operating vice president, said the 25 per cent freight reduction ordered for next Tuesday midnight would not result in the road embargoing any freight shipments.

He explained Erie could meet requirements of the order by extending Diesel operations and rearranging certain freight schedules. About 40 per cent of Erie's main line freight business is handled by Diesel locomotives between Marion, O., and Jersey City, N. J.

President Attacks Palestine Problem on Diplomatic Front

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 26—President Truman tackled the problem of peace in Palestine on a wide diplomatic front today.

Officials predicted that if American efforts to arrange an Arab-Jewish truce are not successful, the Holy Land will become an embattled "no-man's land" when the British give up their mandate there May 15.

Wholesale bloodshed—what Mr. Truman himself called open warfare—is foreseen at that time unless decisive action is taken beforehand along two lines.

These were laid down by the President in a statement yesterday. He called for (1) the creation of a United Nation's trusteeship to assume authority temporarily when the British leave, and (2) for a truce meanwhile to put an end to the killing.

Officials said all the resources of diplomacy must be employed with the Jewish and Arab leaders directly, as well as with their representatives at the United Nations, to make the President's double-harness program effective.

First Reaction Unfavorable

Admittedly, these authorities said, prospects for success are not too bright. Initial reaction of both Jews and Arabs has been unfavorable in many respects to the negotiation of a truce.

In New York, Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, chairman of the American section of the Jewish agency for Palestine, said partition is the very least his people will accept in the way of a political settlement.

Palestine Unimpressed By "Talk" in U.S.

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, March 26—"All this talk in America does not seem to be getting us anywhere."

That was the reaction of a Jerusalem man-in-the-street to President Truman's plea yesterday for an Arab-Jewish truce in Palestine.

Holy Land Arabs and Jews with official connections stuck to their old claims: for the Arabs, a unified independent Palestine, in which Arabs would be the majority; for the Jews, a partitioned Palestine giving them a state of their own.

"We want a democratic Arab government with all Palestinians—that includes Jews—given an equal right to vote * * *," said an Arab lawyer linked with the Palestine Arab higher committee, whose leaders were in Beirut, Lebanon. "We must fight until partition and Zionism are dead."

W. C. T. U. STATE LEADERS IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

COLUMBUS, O., March 26 — Grace D. Richmond, 58, of Columbus, corresponding secretary of the Ohio Women's Christian Temperance Union, was cut and bruised in an automobile collision five miles south of Delaware yesterday.

Mrs. Mary B. Ervin, 67, state president who was with her, was uninjured.

Crash Victim Now Completely Conscious

Reports continue to be favorable on the conditions of the four Marion boys who were injured in an automobile accident Sunday near Kenton, according to hospital attendants.

Jack Rubins, in San Antonio hospital in Kenton, is still showing improvement and is now completely conscious, officials at the hospital reported today. In City hospital here, Charles Ulrich's condition was listed as "fair" today, while Glen Massie and Warren Meister were reported to be "good."

OHIO'S LIQUOR CONTROL HIT

Attorney General Says State Should Either Clean Up or Quit Monopoly.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 26 — The attorney general today recommended that Ohio get out of the liquor business unless it finds ways "to obtain and hold the confidence of the people of Ohio in the monopoly system of liquor control."

Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins ended a year-long investigation today in a 17-page report to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

The report dealt with the purchase of liquor and the issuance of permits in the closing weeks of the administration of former Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Jenkins offered "removing the state from the field of merchandising spirituous liquors" as an "obvious alternative" to unsatisfactory operation.

". . . It is my personal view," he wrote in conclusion, "that unless methods be devised, either as above suggested or otherwise, to obtain and hold the confidence of the people of the state of Ohio in their monopoly system of liquor control and insure satisfactory operation thereof, there remains only one obvious alternative.

Favoritism Removal

"That is, to end political favoritism, irregularities and questionable if not illegal, practices, once and for all, by removing the state from the field of merchandising spirituous liquors."

Investigation of more than a year, he said, failed to produce sufficient evidence against anyone to present to a grand jury.

Of private club permits issued between Nov. 1, 1946, and Jan. 13, 1947, he said:

"While it appeared that in several cases excessive fees were charged for services rendered, at no time did we find such evidence as might have been properly submitted to a grand jury for indictments."

Guns Guard Path To Calvary As Good Friday Is Observed

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, March 26—Arab guns guarded the way of sorrows today—the path Christ is believed to have walked to his crucifixion.

Gun snouts poked out of battle positions in the old city as crowds stood in prayer at each station of Christ's journey to Calvary.

Most of them were Christian Arabs, praying with the Arab prelate of Jerusalem, Msgr. Nmansour Jallad.

Europeans who entered the city through Jaffa gate where battle between Arabs and Jews has been deadly, did so under the watchful eyes of Arab sentries. They wanted to make sure none was Jewish.

The pilgrims of former years did not come to Jerusalem this Good Friday.

Old city guns, which have roared out almost constantly since the Jews and Arabs began fighting over the partitioning of Palestine last fall, were silent today. But tension remained in the air.

The annual procession started from the point where the Bible says Pontius Pilate delivered Christ to the ob and then washed his hands—symbol he was quit of the case.

From this place robed priests led the crowd along the way of the cross—where Christ took up the cross, where He fell, where He met His mother — the long path to Calvary.

Later in the day, if the guns stay quiet, ceremonies will be held in the Holy Sepulchre.

A brief ceremony took place in the Holy Sepulchre this morning when Msgr. Jallad entered the Basilica. He did so after a Moslem group on guard edged away from the door.

Jews celebrated Purim, commemorating their ancient liberation from the Persians.

55 Planned Not Enough Say Senators; Not Alarmed by Submarine Report.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 26—President Truman today slapped tight controls on exports of airplanes and airplane parts, classing them with other war materials. The White House made public a presidential proclamation revising, effective April 15, the list of things which cannot be shipped from this country except under special license. It designates as munitions such things as small arms and machine guns and fire control equipment and range finders as well as aircraft.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 26—Senate air power advocates insisted today the high command's own expansion program falls short of actual needs.

They declared drafting men until a universal training program can be put into full operation is not enough to give this country the armed strength required to back up President Truman's halt-Russia policy.

Led by Senator Lodge (R-Mass), himself a World War II veteran, the determined backers of a mightier Air Force showed little alarm over testimony that Russian submarines have been seen "off our shores."

Nor did they take specific issue with plans to draft at least 200,000 men between the ages of 19 and 26 for the two-year terms with eventual registration of all men up to 45 years of age.

But the half-dozen or more senators gave every sign of an all-out fight to provide the Air Force with 70 combat groups.

The $3,448,000,000 preparedness program outlined by the nation's military leaders yesterday contemplates no addition to the 55 groups now planned.

But Lodge, who sat in as a guest of the senate armed services committee, noted in sharp questioning of the military chiefs that the original blueprint for this country's postwar Air Force contemplated 70 groups.

He demanded to know why this figure had been cut and particularly why it had not been restored in the light of tension with Russia.

Say Views Unchanged

Lodge drew admissions from Secretary of Air Symington and from Gen. Carl Spaatz, Air Force chief of staff, that they still regard the larger figure as necessary.

This brought Secretary of Defense Forrestal back to the witness stand with the rejoinder that to add the 15 groups would boost the cost of the expansion program to $18,000,000,000 for air power alone. And both the navy and ground forces then would have to be increased in proportion, he insisted.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), challenged Forrestal's estimates, and the secretary agreed to return next week with exact data.

Lodge said he would have more questions then, too.

To a reporter's query as to whether Forrestal's explanation for the cutback satisfied him, the Massachusetts lawmaker snapped:

"I didn't even get an answer."

Says Answer Essential

"The answer to that question must be furnished," Lodge went on. "If we are going to cut down from 70 to 55 groups we must know why. It certainly isn't because the international situation is growing any easier. And it certainly is not because air power has become any less important."

Backing up Lodge in his air power demands are such senators as Taft (R-Ohio), Knowland (R-Calif), Saltonstall (R-Mass), Hill (D-Ala) and Maybank.

However, Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the armed services committee commented to newsmen after yesterday's session:

"I think we'll be in pretty good shape with a 55-group Air Force, fully manned, for this year."

Aside from the clash over air power, the testimony of top military officials yesterday afternoon was highlighted by Secretary of the Navy Sullivan's dramatic announcement that foreign submarines recently "have been sighted off our shores." He said these did not belong to any nation west of Russia's "iron curtain."

Sullivan flatly refused to say publicly just where the under-

DRIVE-IN THEATER TO OPEN APRIL 9

New Owners in Charge; Parking Space Enlarged.

Preparations are now under way for the spring opening of the Marion Drive-In theater, located on U. S. route 23 two miles north of the Marion city limits. This announcement was made this week by Horace Abrams of Cleveland, new owner and president of the Summit Drive-In Theaters, Inc., which operates the local theater.

The theaters operated under Summit Drive-In Theaters, Inc., were purchased recently by Mr. Abrams from Horace E. Shock of Lima.

A tentative date of April 9 has been set for the Marion Drive-In to begin itse second year of operation, Mr. Abrams said. This opening date will be carried out if weather conditions permit.

Mr. Abrams and his brother, Robert Abrams of Cleveland, supervisor in charge of the district in which Marion is located, are in Marion this week interviewing applicants as managers of the theater here.

The auto theater capacity is being enlarged prior to the opening after which it will accommodate approximately 700 cars at a single performance, as additional speakers are installed. Last year, only 508 speakers were available. Mr. Abrams stated that new attraction boards are being erected outside the entrance and neon lights are being installed.

The main objectives of auto theaters, Mr. Abrams explained, are to entertain families who do not find it advisable to take children to downtown theaters, working men who might not wish to get "dressed up" to go to a theater after a day's work in a factory, or other families with babies and small children. At drive-in theaters, individual speakers are provided for each car which can be taken inside the car and tuned to the desired volume.

Patrons may enter and leave without disturbing vision of others at any time or waiting for the feature on the screen to end before leaving. A concession stand is provided in the center of the lot.

Irrigation enthusiasts have estimated that irrigation could double the value of most important farm crops in the United States.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATION

CHRIST in You, THE HOPE of Glory

"Luke 23:44: "And there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour."

EARTH'S darkest hour was not when the world ruling Pharaoh drowned in the Red sea; nor when the world monarch Nebuchadnezzar, was dethroned; nor when the world emperor, Caesar, was stabbed by Brutus; nor was it Pearl Harbor: but it was when a lone Gallilean, Jesus of Nazareth, hung upon the cross.

There was light upon that cross that earth's darkness could not hide. Out from behind that dark curtain shot forth streams of light that has created a halo of glory upon Mount Calvary that the passing years cannot dim. Today the glory of the cross thrills our hearts as much as it did the apostle Paul when he cried out, "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ." The darker the hour the greater the glory if the light of the cross is shining in our lives.

New Germ-Killing Drug Aids Scabies Treatment

Since the discovery of penicillin, chemists have been at work trying to produce other germ-killing drugs.

One of these, a sort of second-cousin of penicillin, called tyrothricin, has been found unexpectedly useful in the treatment of scabies, a skin disorder produced not by a germ but by a parasite or tiny animal which gets onto the skin and then burrows into it.

At the places where these little pests enter the skin, there is a great deal of itching. Since scratching an itchy place is the most natural thing in the world, there is also a great deal of scratching, with the result that the skin is broken, germs get in, and a secondary infection is set up. This results in the formation of pimples and boils.

As a rule, scabies is not difficult to diagnose. All that is needed is a careful inspection of the skin by the doctor. There are times, however, when it is necessary for the doctor to examine for the parasite under a microscope.

The parasites may be carried from one part of the body to another by the hands. They may also be carried on wearing apparel, as well as on bed clothing. Since the parasites may be transferred from one person to another, usually all members of a family have the disorder at the same time. This is especially true when they all use the same towel.

In adults, the most common location of the burrows is between the fingers and about the lower abdomen and the groin. In children, lesions are more widespread on the body, being especially common on the face, chest, and abdomen. However, sores are never found on any part of the body not accessible to the fingers. Itching is especially severe when the patient goes to bed and gets warmed up under the covers.

During the war, many persons were infected with scabies and some interesting studies were carried out. For example, a number of healthy persons had the scabies parasites placed on their bodies. These were watched, and it was noted that symptoms, such as itching, did not develop until about thirty days later.

These persons were then cured of their scabies and the experiment was repeated. This time inflammation and itching occurred within a few hours. In other words, these persons became sensitized to the scabies so that later on, when reinfestation occurred, symptoms developed almost at once.

As might be expected, the new drug, tyrothricin, being a germ killer, is not effective against the scabies parasite but it has proved most useful in controlling the secondary infection due to scratching. Thus, in the treatment of scabies tyrothricin is mixed with benzyl benzoate, a substance which successfully attacks the parasite itself. The two together not only eliminated the scabies, but, within two weeks, got rid of the sores and boils which had developed as a result of the scratching and infection. Only one reaction occurred from the tyrothricin.

Of course, when scabies is diagnosed early and treated promptly, a secondary infection will not occur. However, in most instances, the scabies is present so long that scratching does take place and infections do develop. Hence, the mixture of tyrothricin and benzyl benzoate should be found extremely useful in treating this disorder.

Questions and Answers

R. V.: What would make the heart beat fast at times? I have been told that my heart is all right.

Answer: There are many causes of rapid heart beat. It may be due to the presence of a mild infection, such as is found in the teeth, tonsils, or nasal sinuses.

Rapid heart beat is also found in various nervous disorders. High blood pressure, toxic goitre, or excessive secretions from the thyroid gland may cause an increase in the rate of the heart beat. Excessive smoking may also cause it.

Proper treatment for the condition cannot be suggested until a thorough examination by a physician discloses the cause.

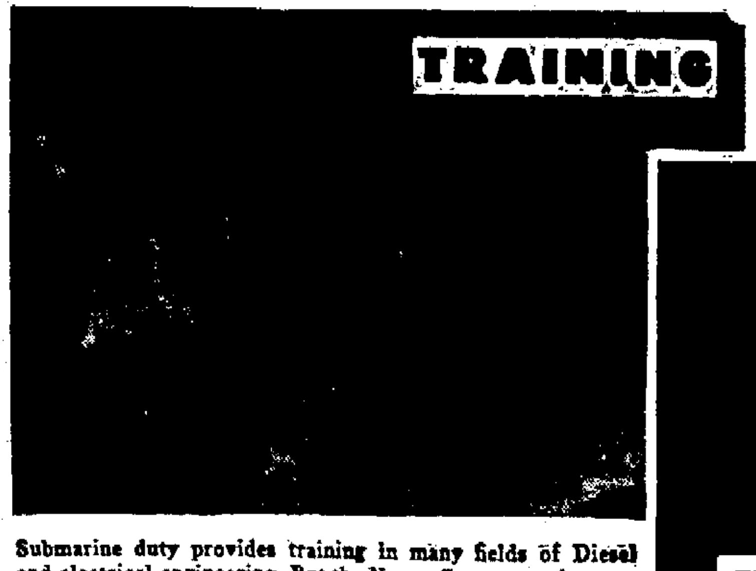
For Young Men Who Want To "Go Places"
The Navy Has a Real Business Proposition
Our great peacetime Navy needs trained, highly skilled, intelligent young men to operate the very latest type equipment used in today's ships and aircraft.



Submarine duty provides training in many fields of Diesel and electrical engineering. But the Navy offers expert instruction in dozens of other skills . . . photography, accountancy, electronics, cooking, music, aviation, meteorology, pharmacy, printing—training which leads to well-paid, responsible positions either in the Navy or in civil life.

PAY
From the moment you "ship," you draw $75.00 per month . . . all clear pocket money! Food, clothing, medical and dental care, living quarters, are free. Your first "Rating Badge" brings your monthly check up to $100.00. You may go up to $135.00 per month . . . even in your first enlistment.
You can retire on a lifetime income
The longer you stay in the Navy, the higher goes your pay. After 20 years service, you can retire and get a check every month for life! Depending on your rate and length of service, you can receive up to $185.63 per month . . . that's a lifetime income of $2,227.56 per year!
Our modern Navy men "go places" in the most literal sense of the term. A single year's service may take you to places as far removed as the Mediterranean, Panama, Hawaii and Guam! Never before has Navy life been as varied or as interesting, never before has as much emphasis been put on recreational opportunities. You will like modern sailoring, whether you choose the sea or the air branch of the service. And you will find your shipmates a group second to none . . . for today's Navy attracts young men of ambition, intelligence. If you are that kind of a young man . . . it will be well worth your while to investigate.

ALY'S POLICE IZING GUNS

for Hidden Arms To Prevent Election Bloodshed.

Associated Press

March 26.—Italian sol- and police are from top to bottom arms in an effort to dshed at the April elections.

nouncement of the Feb- included 2,116 guns of 153 artillery shells and mines, roughly 10 January harvest. The been underway several the day Rome newspa- to publish long lists of firearms, ammunition and explosives which search parties have found in out-of-the-way hiding places.

A few days ago police found two German machine guns and ammunition in an old Etruscian tomb dating back to the seventh century B. C.

Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government makes no secret of his concern about possible disorders during and after the parlimentary elections, when Italy will form her new government.

People have been warned repeatedly that possession of arms and ammunition was a "serious offense against the state's authorities". Many have surrendered them voluntarily. But others, "just to keep on the safe side" kept them.

Against the latter police are now moving vigorously. Carabinieri are particularly active and their organization is trained for the job.

In southern Italy scores face trial for "abusive detention of arms."

An interior ministry spokesman said recently that "most of the arms were found in possession of leftist elements, especially former partisans who did not obey orders to surrender them.

"One relevant fact is that all arms seized, with very few exceptions, are in perfect state, oiled and greased, ready to be used at the first opportunity," the official said.

Model Plane Event To Be Held Sunday

The season's first model airplane meet will open Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. in front of the main gate at the Scioto Ordnance Plant, it was announced today by a spokesman of the Prop Buster's club. The opening date was selected at the club's 64th meeting Tuesday night in the assembly room of the Y. M. C. A. The opening meet will be governed by new "point system" rules adopted at the last meeting.

The local membership has been expanded by the acceptance of several Mt. Gilead model builders who may take part in Sunday's flying program as well as the second scheduled meet which will take place at the Ordnance grounds a week from Sunday, on April 4. The public is invited to attend both meets.

RICHWOOD SCOUTS ACTIVE

RICHWOOD, March 26—The Richwood Boy Scout troop met this week in First Baptist church, led by the pastor, Rev. Donald Hobbs and John Moyer. New troop leaders are scoutmaster Rev. Hobbs; assistant scoutmaster Rev. John Elwood of the Essex Methodist church, Stanton Carroll, John Moyer and Marion Shinnan.

Each assistant has one of the four patrols in the troop. These patrols are: Hounds, Essex, Melvin Foos, patrol leader; Coyotes, Jack Hildreth, patrol leader; Rams, Billy Lee Griffith, patrol leader. Installation will be Monday night, April 12. Richwood Lions are sponsoring troop 109. A hike is planned for Saturday afternoon; the troop will meet at 1 p. m. at the Baptist church.

Pomona Grange Meeting To Be Held April 3

An announcement of Pomona Grange meeting to be held Saturday night, April 3, at United Grange in the Claridon school was made at a meeting of Progressive Grange Tuesday night. At the Pomona meeting, pictures of Grange ritualism will be shown by Mr. Watson of Columbus. It will be open to all fourth degree Grange members.

A fire prevention program was presented by a group of F.F.A. boys from Pleasant Township school, under the direction of Dallas Cornett, agriculture teacher at the school. At the next meeting, a reception for new members will be held and Harold Carroll will show scenic moving pictures. Named to serve on the refreshment committee for that meeting are Mrs. Harold Austin, Mrs. Russell Fett, Miss Anna Kaufman and Miss Martha Kaufman.

AUTO TELEPHONE SERVICE FORECAST

Will Be Available in Marion Within Two Years.

Home to car, car to car, and car to office phones were predicted for Marionites within a year and a half by E. A. Tennant, commercial manager of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co., in an address yesterday at the noon meeting of the Exchange club at Hotel Harding.

Within the same period Tennant predicted equipment would be installed here which would allow a Marion long distance operator to dial directly to an individual phone subscriber in San Francisco from a dial at the Marion switchboard, without aid by intermediate operators.

Tennant explained to the club the reason long distance and toll service here is slower than in pre-war days. In pre-war days the local phone exchange had eight long distance outlets which were more than adequate for local demands. Traffic has increased so much in the past few years, Tennant said, that now 12 long distance outlets can not begin to duplicate the speed of pre-war service.

Dwight Carhart, Marion attorney, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Exchange club April 1 at Hotel Harding. This meeting will constitute the local club's observance of the thirty-seventh anniversary of the founding of Exchange, March 27, 1911, in Detroit. Mr. Carhart's topic will be "Today's Threat To Our Democracy." At this time the local club will reaffirm its stand against Communism.

"U.S. BLUNDER." Testifying before the Senate armed services committee, former Ambassador Joseph C. PLANE CRASH VICTIM'S BROTHER ATTENDS RITES

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 26—Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lundy and daughter Sharon Kay, of Buck township, Hardin county, were to attend the funeral Thursday in Wilmington for Mr. Lundy's sister and family.

The family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Burlingame and their daughter Kathleen, met death in a Navy Vultee plane crash near Somerset, Pa., Saturday. Five other persons met death in the crash.

Mr. Burlingame was pilot of the plane. His wife and daughter were to visit her family in Wilmington while Mr. Burlingame took his party on to St. Louis.

The Burlingame family has visited at the Lundy home several times, coming here in their private plane. Mr. Burlingame operated a private airport in Wilmington for two years after World War II. The family resided in Cranston, R. I.

Former Marionite Writes For Law Publication

Howard Thomas Mitchell, formerly of Marion, now practicing law in Kenwood, Calif., is author of an article in the current issue of "The Lawyer and Law Notes," a publication issued by the American Law Book and Edward Thompson companies.

His article, "The Law Degree as Education," defends legal training against a presumed assumption that the legal degree does not compare with the Ph.D. degree as background dedication for a college professorship.

Mitchell states that law is perhaps the broadest and most realistic of all knowledge, that law training is factual rather than hypothetical as are many other fields of education. He says all civilization is founded on law, and since it is the most complete field of learning is the soundest of all education.

Five Marion Factories Report No Accidents

Five Marion business and manufacturing concerns were reported as having no accidents during the month of February at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Marion Industrial Safety Council of the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday at Hotel Marion. William E. Walters, chairman of the council, presided.

The five with no plant accidents were Colonial Poultry Farms, Huber Mfg. Co., Marion Machine Tool Co., Marion Rapid Transit Co., and Marion Water Co.

Guest speaker was Ralph Workman, safety director at the Marion Power Shovel Co. plant. He talked on safety applications and records applied to chains, cranes, hoists, elevators and blocks in manufacturing businesses.

It has been estimated that more than half the fire fighting equipment in the United States was more than 15 years old in 1942.

James Marlow

What of the landlord? How can he put a tenant out? He can do it under only six conditions:

1. The tenant won't pay his rent.

2. The tenant has committed a nuisance.

3. The landlord wants the place for the use of himself or his immediate family.

4. The landlord has a contract to sell the place to someone who wants it for his own use.

5. The landlord wants to tear down the place or remodel it—to make more housing room—but can't do it while the tenant is living there.

6. The landlord wants to stop renting altogether.

IN EVERY CASE except Nos. 1 and 2—refusing to pay rent or committing a nuisance—the landlord must give a tenant 60 days' notice in writing that he wants the tenant to move out.

In the case of Nos. 1 and 2 the landlord can tell the tenant to get out but how much time he has to give him depends upon local laws.

If a tenant finds out a landlord has violated the rent law by overcharging him, what can he do?

He can go into a local court and sue for up to 3 times the amount of the over-charge, plus court costs and a reasonable lawyer's fee.

The only rent controls removed by the new law are on certain kinds of rooming houses. This explains it:

Rent controls stay on all rooming houses except where there are no more than two paying tenants in non-housekeeping rooms.

In such a case—where there are no more than two paying tenants—rent controls now are dropped and the landlord can charge anything he wants.

The housing expediter here in Washington—now Tighe E. Woods—will be top man on rent controls (though there's a special court which can overrule him.)

MOST OF THE LOCAL PROBLEMS—meaning your town—will be handled by about 600 area rent control offices, each with a director, and an advisory board of at least five local citizens for each area office.

These boards—besides checking on the doings of their area rent office—can recommend:

That rents in their area be raised or controls taken off completely, or in part.

The board makes a recommendation to Woods. If he approves, okay. If he doesn't, he cannot turn down the recommendation.

He has to hand the problem over to a special emergency court for a final decision.

This court—made up of judges from the U.S. district and circuit court of appeals—is appointed by Chief Justice Vinson of the U.S. supreme court whenever there's need for it.

If a board recommendation goes from the board to Woods to the court, 95 days can pass by before a final decision.

Under the old law ending March 31 Woods could get a court order-to-stop against a landlord for only one reason: If the landlord was charging over-ceiling rent.

It's different now. Under the new law Woods can get court order to stop a landlord from breaking any part of the new law.

PLAN GRANDSTAND IN CRAWFORD CO.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 26 — Bids were advertised for today for construction of Crawford county's new fairground grandstand, following official approval of plans submitted by Herbert S. Jones, Mansfield architect. The plans were inspected and approved Wednesday night when Jones presented drawings and specifications.

The proposed stand will seat 2,000 and will be of reinforced concrete, the roof of corrguated iron. Cost will be met by $35,000 remaining in the fairground restoration fund, money received in a settlement from the Army for use of the ground as a training camp during the war, plus that realized from the sale of Army buildings left on the ground. The original restoration fund of $65,000 was partially depleted by the recent construction of a horse barn.

If the $35,000 on hand does not cover the lowest bid, commissioners are permitted by law to allocate up to $10,000 a year from the general fund for fair purposes.

The grandstand is expected to be ready for use when the county fair is held early in September. This year's county fair will be the first to be held since the old grandstand was destroyed by fire in 1940.

2,200 Still Must Buy Auto Licenses for 1948

An estimated 5,300 Marion motorists have purchased license plates to date, Deputy Registrar Walter C. Bailey said today. Bailey estimates 2,200 motorists here have not yet purchased their 1948 license plates.

These persons have five days left in which to obtain 1948 plates for their cars. New plates must be on all cars on the roads after midnight March 31, and all local law enforcement officers will be alert to apprehend violators starting at that time.

March 31 also is the deadline for obtaining 1948 drivers' licenses without a road test.

High Cost of High Flying

THE planners of adequate air defense aren't likely to get all the money they want, not because they have a bad case but because of the high cost of high flying.

The nation's ability to pay the cost of a strong aerial arm added to the already existing—and presumably increasing — cost of the ground forces and the navy is questionable.

Plans recommended by the President's air policy commission and the congressional aviation policy board might add as much as 80 per cent to present defense totals. The annual cost of defense would rise from a present minimum of about 10 billion to as much as 18 billion.

The issue is whether aerial defense on this scale must be regarded as a net addition to other types of defense, or whether large-scale aerial defense can be regarded as a substitute for some of the other types of defense, whose costs could be cut back in proportion to their declining importance.

Senator Taft is among those suggesting that if the United States had the worlds' largest air force it no longer would need to rely so heavily on traditional types of defense. A new kind of balance would be achieved in national defense, he believes, and costs could be balanced accordingly.

The alternative to a new balance would be the net addition of the cost of adequate air defense to already existing costs, confronting American taxpayers with a defense bill so high that future tax rates, instead of being reduced, would have to be increased.

Captains and Kings

EVERY once in a while when the welkin rings in these warmup days of another national campaign a citizen is prone to wonder whatever became of some of the welkin-ringers of the recent past—men who once seemed as fixed and immovable in their power and glory in the political firmament as the stars themselves.

Leon Henderson is chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, with 25,000 dues-paying members. Chester Bowles, who still makes speeches, no longer makes news. Rexford G. Tugwell is teaching school in Chicago. Harold Ickes is writing a column for the newspapers he professed to despise. Frances Perkins is holding down a post in the civil service commission. Felix Frankfurter is heard sometimes as agreeing with the majority, sometimes as disagreeing with it as a member of the supreme court. Henry Morgenthau is vegetating at Hopewell Junction, N. Y. Thomas G. Corcoran is a fleshy and prosperous corporation lawyer in Washington. Jesse Jones is handling his own money. The Roosevelt children are making ends meet. Mrs. Roosevelt is enroute to England. Andy May is practicing a little law in Prestonburg, Ky. Jay Franklin, who once had all the answers, doesn't have them any more. Alben Barkley made news a while back by growing a mustache. James M. Landis is at liberty. Bob Hannegan is in baseball business. Jim Farley is in the soft-drink business. This is by way of reminder that the captains and the kings depart and will be joined ere long by a number of new names in the "whatever became of so-and-so" classification.

Salvaging Overseas Scrap

WITH the scrap shortage showing no signs of easing, the government and metal dealers are stepping up efforts to return 10,000,000 tons of scrap from European battlefields.

Scrap prices have gone so high that 2,240 pounds of scrap steel rails sell for the same price as 2,000 pounds of new rails. Other prime scrap is even higher. The shortage is felt throughout industry because steel mills retain a higher portion of pig iron as a scrap substitute, and foundries can't acquire all the pig iron they need.

With typical American prodigality, we have allowed battlefield scrap to lie unused while Britain has reclaimed more than 500,000 tons. Fortunately, the metal is still a reclaimable asset.

Every ton of scrap brought from overseas saves two tons of our ore stockpile. If scrap is in sufficient supply, 1 to 3 million tons can be added to American steel production annually. Overseas battlefields are sown with America's bounty. We should salvage what we can—while we can.

Advice for Wallace

SOUND advice for Henry A. Wallace was forthcoming the other day from Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas. He said Wallace at least once during his campaign of speech making should find occasion to make favorable mention of something the United States has done.

Wallace may question the value of advice from a southern Democrat, but such a suggestion, if followed, would identify for some the country in which Wallace is seeking office. As things stand now, he should carry every precinct in Moscow, Minsk, Magnetogorsk, Baku and Petropolsk.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Another Letter to "The Times."

PROFESSOR L. C DUNN,
Columbia University,
NEW YORK, N. Y.

MY DEAR PROFESSOR DUNN:

I see that you have written another letter to the editor of the "New York Times," and I must say that I would not have recognized it as the work of a scientist. Scientists claim to deal with tangibles, with facts that are verifiable. You have nothing to do with the mystical.

So let us have a look:

SOKOLSKY

According to you, the American-Soviet Science society and the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship separated, effective on July 1, 1946, in relationship to a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation of $25,000. Apparently, we are to assume that this grant from the Rockefeller Foundation makes your organization right.

However, the fact remains that on March 8, 1948, both organizations were listed as having the same telephone number at the same address and were listed on the same bulletin board of the same building, 114 East 32 street, New York, N. Y.

Suppose somebody wanted to telephone the American-Soviet Scientific society. He would look in the telephone book and find that your number is listed as Murray Hill 3-2080. You say that you had moved; but you did not change the telephone number for almost two years. That is very curious. Did you not receive any telephone calls during that two-year period? Did you somehow notify everyone who might under any circumstances wish to communicate by telephone with your society that you were at another number? This all appears very mysterious.

How Does It Come?

Furthermore, in New York City, the telephone book serves as a city directory. If one seeks an address, the telephone book supplies it. According to the telephone book, the address of your society on March 8, 1948, was 114 East 32 street, the same as the National Council for American-Soviet Friendship, which has been declared a subversive organization. But you say that you moved from that office to the American-Russian Institute at 58 Park avenue on or about July 1, 1946. How does it happen that no one took the trouble for almost two years to make the change of the listing in the telephone book? Apparently, it was a matter of no importance. No sensible person lets his address and his telephone number be wrong in the telephone book for two years.

Now, there is another point. You refer to Representative Holifield of California as a witness; that he reported concerning your organization in the Congressional Record for July 22, 1947—a year after you claim to have changed your address; eight months before I found that you used the same telephone number as the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, declared to be a subversive organization—and appearing on the same building directory as occupying the same room.

Conflict of Schedules

Well, this same Representative Holifield made the point on March 9, 1948, also in the Congressional Record, that your organization in some manner served the armed forces. I ask him to specify. But you make the point that your society was organized during May, 1945. The European war was over on May 8, 1945; the far eastern war was over Aug. 14, 1945.

Precisely what services did your society perform for the armed forces of the United States between May, 1945, when you say you were organized, and the end of the war—V.J. day—three months later, or the end of the European war, during the very same month. It would be interesting to know how much you could do in such a short time apart from getting a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation on July 1, 1946, nearly a year after V.J. day.

No, my dear professor, your letter is too mysterious to be convincing. Mind you, I do not know your politics or your philosophy. I do not know whether you are an Hegelian, a Marxist, a Jeffersonian, a Wallacite or a registered Republican. I know only that you wrote a couple of letters, one of which led me to the telephone book and a bulletin board, and that if, as a scientist, you faced such precise data, you would prefer it to the confusions of dialectics.

Faithfully Yours,
GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

U. S. Troops in Palestine?

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

AMERICAN troops will soon be dispatched to Palestine to replace British troops. They will be sent to perform precisely the same function that the British have performed since the war. And they will inherit precisely the same miseries, including shootings and bombings by the Irgun and Stern gangs. At the moment, this unpleasant prospect seems about the best forecast of what is in store as a result of the record of American policy on Palestine.

Every effort is of course being made to avoid this outcome. Those responsible for Palestine policy still hope longingly that the British can somehow be coaxed or badgered into keeping their troops in Palestine, at least for a few months or a year. Indeed, there is undoubtedly some disposition to try a little discreet twisting of the British arm to this end. But British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's adamant assertion that British troops will be withdrawn on schedule certainly indicates that the British have no intention of putting up with any arm-twisting. And that means that American troops will be bequeathed the virtually impossible task of keeping order in Palestine, simply because no other troops, except Russian, are available.

The Underlying Reason

The basic reason for the reversal of American policy on Palestine was, of course, precisely to prevent Russian troops from being sent to Palestine or Russian influence spreading to the Middle East. Partition was abandoned largely because the conviction gradually spread upward through the state and service departments to President Truman that partition gave the Soviets an opportunity to establish a foothold in the Middle East. The trusteeship proposal advanced last week by American UN Delegate Warren Austin was designed primarily to end that opportunity.

The Soviet Union has refused to join the United Nations trusteeship council, to which, if the American proposal is approved by the assembly, the Palestine problem will be referred. There is no veto in the council. Final decisions are made by a two-thirds vote. Thus even if the Kremlin were to order Andrei Gromyko to join the trusteeship council tomorrow, and if he were to demand Soviet participation in a Palestine trusteeship the day after, he would simply be voted down. By this faintly legalistic device, the United States will have barred the Soviet Union from Palestine, provided the assembly approves the American proposal.

Troops Necessary

But obviously the matter will not end there. The trusteeship council will be asked to name a governor general of Palestine. Clearly no United Nations governor general can exercise authority in Palestine without troops to enforce that authority. Russian troops are barred. The British are determined to withdraw once and for all. The French have let it be known that they will under no circumstances send troops to Palestine and the Chinese have troubles of their own. No smaller nation has yet evinced the faintest enthusiasm for sending troops to the Palestine hot spot. That leaves the United States.

To be sure, the United Nations assembly may fail to follow the American lead to the extent of reversing itself on Palestine by the same two-thirds vote by which it originally approved partition. Or the United States senate, asked to approve the sending of American troops to Palestine, may simply refuse. Either development would mean that the Jews and Arabs would be left to fight it out. Chaos in the Middle East would ensue, with the most explosive international possibilities. Moreover, most of the experts believe that in time, as the enormous Arab superiority in manpower made itself felt, the Jewish community in Palestine would find its position in Palestine completely untenable. In that case there would be enormous moral pressure in this country to send troops, if only to prevent a massacre of the Jews.

The Probable Program

Yet in the opinion of those closest to the situation the most probable outcome of the trusteeship proposal is that the United States will for all practical purposes merely replace the British as the mandatory power. There can be little doubt of the result. Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, American Zionist leader, has already said that the Jewish community in Palestine will fight troops in any uniform, including the American, which replace the Britain. If Dr. Silver is right, there is no use disregarding the risk of a vicious outbreak of racial feeling in this country.

Thus American policy on Palestine which was primarily responsible for the British withdrawal in the first place, has led apparently to these results: first, we will inherit all the miseries of the British in Palestine and a few more besides; second, racial tension in this country may be disastrously aggravated; third, we will have committed badly needed troops where no advantage, strategic or otherwise, accrues from their commitment, and fourth, we will have settled nothing. It is not difficult to understand why the record of American policy on Palestine can stand as a chilling object lesson in how not to make foreign policy.

"The Truman Porch"

By Alexander R. George

WASHINGTON

THE WHITE HOUSE now has that second-floor porch which President Truman wants for a summertime relaxing spot.

The new balcony is visible to passersby on the thoroughfare bordering the spacious grounds south of the White House. Sightseeing guides already have made "the Truman porch" a major point of interest on tours of the capital city.

You have to look rather sharply, however, to detect the balcony from that distance. From the motor road and sidewalks outside the White House grounds, the porch appears quite well-concealed within the massive south portico.

Project Criticized

When President Truman ordered the balcony built, some architects, congressmen and others said it would detract from the simple, classic lines of the nation's most famous residence. The project was disapproved by the commission of fine arts, advisory group on governmental buildings.

The balcony expenditure, originally estimated at $15,000 and now figured at less than $10,000, did not require special congressional action. It came out of funds already allowed for upkeep of the executive mansion.

The porch, just outside the President's study and bedroom, is a convenient place for White House occupants to get a breath of outdoor air. They will be able to spend a summer evening there in family solitude, or entertain several friends.

Plenty of Room

The ellipse-shaped balcony is spacious, about 72 feet long and 10 feet wide. It has a tile floor on concrete slabs and a simple iron railing painted white.

It is high enough to get full benefit of prevailing southerly breezes in Washington's sultry weather. The view is lovely across White House gardens and lawn to the trees of the large park and playground area stretching to the Washington monument.

The President can slip out on a summer afternoon to get a long-distance view of a baseball game on a playground diamond or he can take a nap in shaded privacy.

Point of Controversy

Is the Truman balcony a front, or a back, porch? It depends on what you think are the front and back of the White House.

Most Washingtonians now consider the north side, fronting on Pennsylvania avenue to be the front. The main entrances are on the north, and "back of the White House" is generally understood to mean south—toward the Potomac river.

For many years, however, the impressive south portico was regarded as the main side, and in that sense the south was the front of the executive mansion. James Hoban, the original architect, apparently considered the south as the front because he placed the kitchens and servants' quarters on the north side.

Two years ago congress defeated an effort by President Truman to obtain an addition to the White House. It refused to provide funds for extension of the west wing to enlarge the executive offices.

Changes and proposed changes of the famous residence almost always have stirred up a fuss. Some oldtime Washingtonians still lament the taking away of the large greenhouses on the west side of the White House. Others contended the greenhouses were "atrocious."

Hams Across the Sea Again

Britain has lifted its 75 per cent excise tax on American movies. Hopalong Cassidy rides again.

The lifting of the British film ban is the biggest news in Hollywood since the invention of the crackle-proof popcorn bag.

The movie industry was feeling the pinch . . . Even some of the closest relatives of the big producers were down to one swimming pool.

I figured all along it would be just a question of time before Britain relented. Austerity, John Bull can take . . . but not without Betty Grable.

Having regained the British market, Hollywood is faced with but one remaining problem: How to get back the American one.

Maybe I'm just old-fashioned. But I still don't think there's anything wrong with the movie industry a few good pictures wouldn't cure.

Waterfall in Times Square

("Broadway, New York, plans the most spectacular of all electric advertisements, an illuminated real waterfall, high above the street, using 50,000 gallons of water per minute."—News Item.)

Oh, meet me at the waterfall,
Where raging waters play—
(Above the bars and hotdog stands
And dance halls of Broadway!)
Come where the leaping torrents roar
And wild, mad waters tear—
(Down through a blazing canyon quite Within the nickel fare!)

II

Behold the river rushing down
To meet the distant seas—
(Between the many slot machines
And orange drinkeries!)
Observe the current! See it crash
With majesty and might—
(Above the bars and coffee shops
And each pastrami site!)

III

No Cook's Tour do I ask of you;
We'll heed the barkers' call,
And munch a blintze or bagel there
Beneath a waterfall!
No journey deep into the hills—
We'll pay a subway fare
And tear a herring as we feel
The wild spray in our hair!

IV

The glories of Yosemite—
Perceive them from the wilds—
(Of Lindy's and the Automat,
Jack Dempsey's bar and Childs'!)
The Staubbach Falls of Switzerland
May have their beauty, but
What are they to a waterfall
That roars through 'Movie Gut'!

It sprinkles "Oklahoma" and
The Shuberts (Lee and Jack):
It dampens Maurice Evans' show,

It sprays the Winter Garden, and
I hark to MacBeth's shriek.

E' NVO

Yes, it's a date, be there, my sweet,
And we will view with pride
A seventh Wonder of the World—

We'll see a movie, dance a while,
And hear a big-time band . . .
And get Niagara thrown in . . .

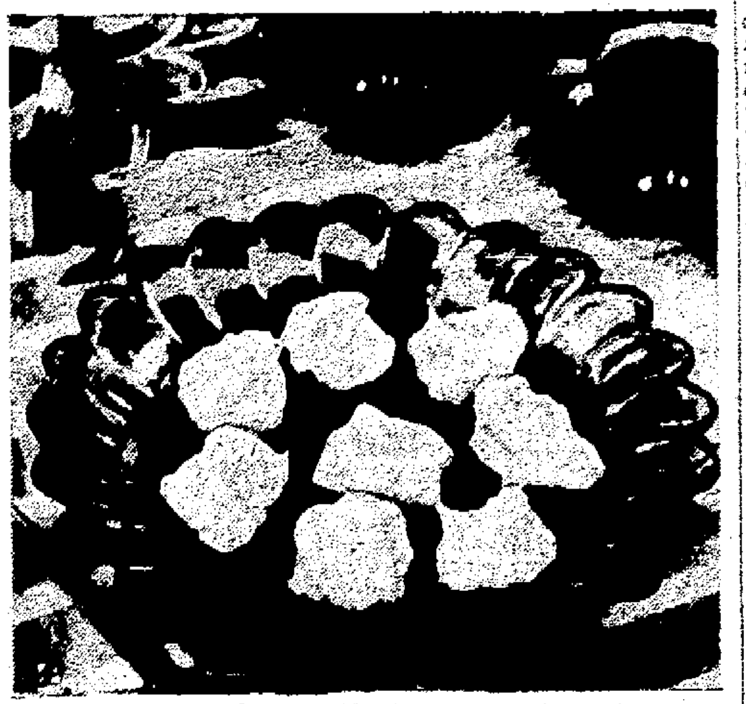
Colors for Easter Table



MOCHA FLUFF . . . Make It Meringue for Easter.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Put a parade of Easter colors on your table this year—and do it with food. You can if you feature the golden-yellow of hot cornmeal bread, a deep sunshiny sponge or chiffon cake, a lemon pie with a fluffy white meringue—the colors of daffodils and lilies, of sunlight and spring and rebirth!

Of course decorated Easter eggs play an important part on the table. What would breakfast on Easter Sunday be without a basket of them? If there are small children in the family they'll love individual baskets—and the not-so-small will like them, too. My sister Phyllis has a special basket which she always fills with colored eggs for her young son at Easter time and then uses for soft and hard-cooked eggs all the year through. Somehow a breakfast or a supper egg is always more inviting to a youngster when it comes served in this special way.

For an Easter party the youngsters will enjoy tiny party baskets filled with chocolate bunnies or jelly beans. I don't know whether it's just in New York that jelly beans have turned modern in color or whether they've changed hues all over the country! But the chartreuse, claret and petal-pink shades I saw in the window of a Fifth avenue candy shop were entrancing—and looked like modern "decorator colors." Quite a far cry from the hard yellows, vociferous pinks and "licorices" of my childhood!

Even if your family has its own traditional Easter menus it's always fun to add something new. If there is an Italian bakery in your neighborhood, do try their Panettoni; this is a traditional rich Easter bread full of such good things as chopped citron, lemon and raisins.

Of course your family will enjoy some especially good Easter dessert. They should be rather light in contrast to the rich pies and puddings of some of our other holidays. I always think coffee is an excellent flavor for these delicate sweets; coffee ice cream and angel food cake, for instance, or cream puffs filled with coffee custard pudding. Or serve the delicious dessert pictured with its mocha custard base and poached meringues, fluffy as angel wings! The recipe has been tested with instant coffee, regular and decaffeinated; if there are sleep problems in your household you may like to use the latter kind.

Mocha Fluff

3 egg whites, dash of salt, 3 tablespoons sugar, 2½ cups milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten, 5 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon decaffeinated or regular instant coffee.

Beat egg whites with salt until foamy throughout. Add 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is incorporated; then continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Combine milk and vanilla in large shallow saucepan or skillet and bring just to boiling point. Drop meringue mixture by tablespoonfuls into milk. Cover and remove from heat; let stand 10 minutes. Remove meringues carefully from milk and reserve. Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Mix together egg yolks, 5 tablespoons sugar and coffee. Add small amount of hot mixture, stirring vigorously. Return to double boiler and cook, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes, or until mixture coats spoon. Remove from heat and pour into sherbet glasses or large bowl. Place meringues on top. Chill. Make 6 servings.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Bauman of Green Castle, Ind., are in Marion to spend the Easter weekend with Mrs. Bauman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller of 458 Forest street.

Miss Zeigler, Mrs. Zeigler, Miss Barbara Ann Zeigler, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zeigler will visit relatives in this area over Easter.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I CAUGHT my jaw from dropping only with an effort as I heard Georges' query to my husband. He could mean only one thing, I told myself, by that question concerning Mary. He must intend to broach to Mary's uncle the same absurd theory to which he had treated me a half hour before.

Well, I reflected, it would make things easier for Dicky. He would not have to bring up the subject of Georges' general absurd behavior without warning. I was sure that the royal playboy, with his grotesque theory of Mary's emotions, would give her uncle plenty of reasons for the verbal flaying Dicky meant to administer.

Georges should have been warned from Dicky's first words, and the frigidity of his tone.

"Of whom are you speaking?" he asked. "Do you mean Mrs. Noel Veritzen?"

"If you mean her legal name, yes," he said. "But I am asking the question concerning your niece, Mary Veritzen."

"She is my niece, yes," Dicky said, evidently recognizing the futility of arguing with Georges. "But I no longer have any authority over her, parental, or otherwise. If you have anything to ask about her, you would better go to her husband, who, no doubt, will be glad to give you any information you desire."

His tone subtly implied that Noel probably would kick him down two flights of stairs, if he dared put any question concerning his wife. I could not tell whether or not Georges had caught the nuance, for he seemed bent on getting what he wished over to Dicky.

"But that is what I cannot possibly do," he said, with urgency and a touch of panic in his voice. "There are reasons why I cannot talk to Mr. Noel Veritzen. But I must talk to some one close to Mary, and you are her nearest relative, are you not?"

"I have that honor," Dicky said.

"Then, will you not grant me a short interview?" Georges asked.

"I will talk to you, yes," Dicky replied. "But, I warn you, that you would better watch your speech. I am rather particular as to what is said concerning my women relatives."

Katie and Mrs. Ticer came into the dining room at that instant, and I hastily left with them. But I could hear Georges' horrified protest as I went out of the door.

"Oh, you could not possibly imagine that I would say anything derogatory of Mary!" he exclaimed, and Dicky's answer—part of it—followed me into the hall.

"I do not mean anything derogatory," he said. "Praise from some sources—"

But I heard no more, and I hastily ushered Mrs. Ticer and Katie into the library and shut the door after us. I knew that both women were avid with curiosity as to the meaning of the colloquy they just had heard, but I wasted no time on that angle, but spoke quickly, and with emphasis.

"You probably understand," I told them, "that this summons is just an excuse to get away from the dining room. I have no time—and no need—to look over the house, I know it is in perfect order."

Katie's eyes were like stars, but, for a wonder, she made no comment, and I went swiftly on.

"I must go over now to my father's wing. I want you both to go down to my little study and stay there for five minutes, or until you are sure Mr. Graham, Mr. "K." and King Georges have started for my father's wing. But, if anyone, even my husband, asks where I am, say that I went to my own room for a little. I will make it the truth. I will stop there on my way over to my father's apartment."

AWARDS PRESENTED TO GOLDEN GLOVERS

Y's Men Entertain at Dinner in Y.M.C.A.

A banquet, sponsored by the Y's Men's club, was held in the varsity room of the Y.M.C.A. Thursday night and trophies, tokens and Y.M.C.A. membership cards were awarded to champions and runners-up of the Golden Gloves tournament.

Judges, referees, Y's Men and boxers attended the annual function which consisted of dinner, song, the presentation ceremony and two movies, one the Joe Louis-Joe Wolcott fight picture, and the other a full length boxing show entitled "Flying Fists."

Dick Myers, president of the club, in charge of the meeting, introduced Joseph Yannitell, Y's Men's boxing chairman, who in turn introduced the boxers and presented trophies.

The following list of champions received trophies: Pat Patterson, heavyweight, Sal Madrino, light heavyweight, Charles Farina, middleweight, Jack Sekinger, welterweight, Joe Neidig, lightweight, Lawrence Strahm, featherweight, William Galland, bantamweight, and Al Treisch, flyweight. Verlin White, Ernest Arcuri, Harold Waite, Carroll Combs, Lowell Price and Alfred Doss received silver gloves for runners-up in the heavy, middle, welter, light, feather and bantam classes. Richard James and H. Humphrey were awarded silver gloves as novice champions in the feather and flyweight divisions, and Bill Kaaua the featherweight runner-up token.

A year's free Y.M.C.A. membership was given to Charles Mories, John Jones, Delbert Huntsman, and Billy Hunt, runners-up in the paperweight division, and to Jack Davis, Willard Carwile, Richard Dawson, Robert Hunt and Russell Gorrell as champions in the paper class. Robert Millington and Fred Terry were awarded silver gloves in the paperweight division.

APPRAISER KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH

Staff members of the Cole-Layer-Trumble company which is conducting the Marion county real estate reappraisal were saddened this week by news that one of their members who had been working here had died as a result of injuries suffered in a grade crossing accident in Mississippi March 20.

He was I. K. Smith, 27, of Winston-Salem, N. C., a staff appraiser and supervisor in the construction division of the company. He had been in Marion about three weeks working on commercial district appraisals.

The fatal accident occurred in West Point, Miss., while Smith was enroute to a temporary assignment to a company reappraisal job in Hazelhurst, Miss., company staff members here reported.

According to the report by the staff the accident occurred when Smith drove his car into the path of a train at a grade crossing, failing to see the train in time to stop.

Smith was unmarried and had been employed by the company for several years. Funeral services were held in Winston-Salem Wednesday and attended by executives of the firm.

Easter Seals Distributed Here To Benefit Crippled Children

People of Marion and Marion county are being urged by the Marion County Society for Crippled Children and Adults to buy and use Easter seals to aid in the care of crippled children and adults.

Easter seals were sent out by societies throughout the nation the first of March, those in Marion being received from the state society as the Marion county chapter had not been organized when the planning meetings were being held. The campaign is scheduled to end Easter Day and people who received seals are being urged by the local society to return money for the seals as soon as possible to aid in work with crippled children and adults.

Earl Hale, president of the Marion county society, has pointed out that although the local society was organized only recently, the state will take care of the county up to 75 per cent of the money received from the sale of seals in Marion county. In future years, the seal campaign will be conducted through the local society and then 75 per cent of the money raised will remain in Marion county for use here.

The gay magenta and green seal this year portrays a little girl, with a crutch under her arm, offering an Easter lily, a symbol of the season of new life and hope. The 1948 seal bears the same message as did its predecessors, "Help Crippled Children."

The sale of Easter Seals has been adopted by one community after another as a way to give every person a chance to help crippled children. The National Society has distributed billions of seals since its first campaign in 1934.

In the past, the public has demonstrated its confidence in the Easter Seal drive and the National Society by purchasing more than two billion seals annually. Funds raised by the drive are used for all types of treatment and rehabilitation for disabled persons, children and adults alike. This includes education, medical and surgical treatment, physical, occupational and speech therapy, equipment, hospitalization and convalescent care, vocational rehabilitation and employment and other facilities which help the handicapped persons of this nation become self sufficient, better adjusted and healthier citizens.

The more funds raised in Marion county through the sale of seals, the more services will be offered crippled persons in this community. Any groups or individuals can contribute to the society throughout the year and all the money from contributions remains in the county.

CAN'T PROTEST SUB VISITS, NAVY SAYS

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, March 26 — Navy officers said today that rules of international law leave the United States powerless to protest the presence of submarines off American shores.

They said foreign vessels can roam the high seas as they please as long as they stay out of territorial waters of another country. That generally is regarded as the three-mile area immediately off shore.

Meanwhile, informed quarters said Russian submarine activity off American shores was even more extensive than indicated yesterday by Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan and other Navy officials.

These quarters said Soviet underseas craft have been plying the waters near U. S. bases in the Pacific for about a year. They said their information was that at least five subs cruising near the Aleutian islands had been positively identified as Russian. The Aleutians are only a short hop from Russian territory.

AIR FORCE

water boats were spotted. But at the Navy department a high official said there were three instances in which foreign submarines were reported sighted in the California - Aleutian islands - Hawaii triangle. One was seen at night by a merchant vessel 200 miles off San Francisco, the official said. He added that identification of the object as a submarine was not positive.

Another merchant ship reported sighting a sub in an island group 800 miles west of Hawaii and a plane spotted the third off the Aleutians, the official said.

RAIL UNION HEADS SET WAGE MEETING

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 26—Executives of two railroad brotherhoods will convene here Monday to talk about a new wage demand. What they decide may depend a great deal on weekend developments in the wage case of three other brotherhoods.

All five are "operating" unions, composed of the men who run the trains. Last fall they asked the nation's railroads for wage boosts of 30 per cent, the minimum money increase to be $3 a day.

Two organizations, the trainmen and the conductors, finally accepted an hourly increase of 15½ cents, dating from Nov. 1. In the complicated wage formulas which apply on the railroads, that worked out to about one-fifth of what the 30 per cent demand would have cost, according to the carriers. The brotherhood of railroad trainmen represents about 216,000 workers and the order of railway conductors about 40,000.

There was a precedent for the raise of 15½ cents an hour. Last September, an arbitration board awarded that amount to about 1,000,000 non-operating employes, such as clerks, telegraphers and shop workers. At that time, the railroads estimated their annual payrolls went up $438,340,000.

But three of the operating brotherhoods—engineers, firemen and switchmen—turned down the offer and kept pressing for 30 per cent. When negotiations broke down, they set last Feb. 1 as a strike date for their 222,000 members.

Under railway labor law, a president fact-finding board took over their case and conducted hearings. This emergency board is expected to report its recommendations to the White House Saturday. The law provides there shall be no strike in the 30 days after submission of the report.

To Take Special Offering For European Project

Members of the Sabbath school of the Marion Seventh-Day Adventist church will give a special offering Saturday toward building a training school and publishing house for the denomination in Czechoslovakia. It is stated that Adventist leaders in Washington, D. C. have been assured by cable from that country that relief program of the church there is proceeding normally in spite of the recent Communist party coup. Reports from Czechoslovakia featured during the present three-month quarter period at the Sabbath school sessions, show a need for buildings to train 2,000 young people of the denomination there for service to the church. A tract of land near Prague has been secured. It is stated that there are 4,000 members of the denomination in that country.

THREE IN COURT ON CONDUCT CHARGES

Three persons were brought before Judge Hazen this morning on charges of disorderly conduct.

Eva McGowan, 35, and James Clay, 37, were arrested by police at 11:52 p. m. last night and charged with disorderly conduct following a fight and disturbance at 266 Senate street. Clay pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs by Judge Hazen. Eva McGowan pleaded not guilty. Her bond for appearance was set at $50 and her case set for hearing at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Harold William Wren Jr., 21, of near Edison was arrested at 5:57 p. m. on North Main street on a disorderly conduct charge. Police reported he created a disturbance at the Acme Grill, 153 North Main street where he pretended to be a police officer and displayed a badge bearing the legend "Employee Columbus Police No. 218." He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25 and costs after admitting he was not a police officer but had found the badge in a box in his home.

Ross Boywie, 67, of Bernard, Miss., was arrested by police at 2:38 p. m. yesterday when he was unable to give an account of his presence in the Erie railroad yards. He was held for trial on a suspicious person charge. Judge Hazen this morning gave him a fine of $25 and costs which would be suspended on the condition that he leave town today.

Francis Jay Harper, 35, of the Milner Hotel was arrested at 3:19 p. m. yesterday on West Center street on a non-support warrant filed by Frieda Hanley, his ex-wife. He was given a sentence of six months in the Columbus workhouse which was suspended on the condition that he pay $10 per week for the support of two minor children.

The rally here will be open to both young and older people, Dr. Hershey stated.

Special music was by a Young People's choir directed by Elmer Harruff. Rev. Joel Harman of First Pilgrim Holiness church offered prayer.

Rev. W. L. Mullet of Walhonding, evangelist, said: "How many people there are who seem to be so self-satisfied with the pure and simple profession of religion, a religion that has a name but no power. Would we appreciate the ministry of Jesus if he would preach to us now as he did in his day with the emphasis he preached with? So many today are wanting to satisfy God on leftovers.

"The only cross that Jesus knew was the cross that stood for death of self and sin. To follow Jesus means to keep Christ out in front."

Predicts Forced Vote On Oleo Tax Repeal

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, March 25 — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-SC) predicts that the oleomargarine tax repeal fight will be forced to the house floor for a final decision.

Rep. Rivers, a leader in the repeal bloc, said 118 house members already have signed a petition to pry the legislation away from the house agriculture committee. The committee shelved it last week.

Under house rules, the legislation automatically must be brought to the house floor for a vote if the petition gets 218 signatures or a majority of the membership of the house.

CONDITION GOOD

GALION, March 26—The condition of Mrs. Doris Wake, 21, wife of Donald Wake of near Galion, was reported as good today by City hospital attaches. Holy Week Services Closed at Epworth

At the final service of the special Holy Week series at Epworth Methodist church Thursday night, Dr. Hazen G. Werner of Drew Theological seminary, Madison, N. J., spoke on "He Found It in a Tear." A candlelight communion service was conducted.

The message theme was based on a medical discovery of recent years, the finding by a laboratory physician of an antiseptic property in a human tear. From this the speaker drew the thought that "Out of sorrow comes a potency of healing and deliverance"; from the suffering of Christ upon the cross comes, to those who will give their "soul its chance to know the cross," a "liberation and healing, and restoration of life abundant." He asked, "Do we see the world bowing to atomic power, materialism?" then declared, "the only answer is Calvary. Looking at every phase and facet of the cross, the meaning is clear that evil will never be the last thing. Goodness will ultimately prevail."

The Grand Canal of China is believed to be the longest and, in some sections, the oldest artificial waterway in modern use.

The Marion Kiwanis club has been awarded a first place achievement award for the year 1947 made among clubs in the Ohio Kiwanis district which have an active membership of over 100 The announcement was made at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club Thursday at Hotel Harding at which Dr Hazen G Werner of Drew theological seminary in Madison, N J, was guest speaker

A letter announcing the award was received recently by E L Cleveland, Marion club president in 1947

Based on the achievement reports submitted by all clubs of over 100 active members at the end of the year, the award was made to the Marion club on its achievement which include activities and services rendered by the club

The certificate of achievement will be presented to the club at the Ohio District convention to be held in October in Dayton

This is the second time the club has received first place in the division, the other time being in 1944 when Henry A Krigbaum, was president The club won second place in the division in 1946

The achievement report submitted by the Marion club at the end of the year, 1947, included boys and girls activities, support of churches in spiritual aims, agricultural activities, public affairs, attendance and various other activities

Ministers of Marion were guests of the Marion club at its meeting Thursday Dr Werner introduced by John Clark, chose as his subject, 'Jesus in the Garden"

Dr Werner said there is underway now a gradual deterioration in the work for the Christian religion and that people have lost some of their urgency Dr Werner voiced his belief that we will never get the right job done and straighten out the world without the support of the churches

Dr. Werner quoted Dorothy Thompson in saying that "if society should lose sight of Christian life, let the world tremble" He said people need to inculcate the Christian religion into everyday living, that we must have proper family religious training need to grow boys and girls spiritually and need more family prayer in the home, business and vocational life

Harding High School Track Season Opens with Intra-Mural Meet April 6

Sports Shorts

By BILL DIEM
Star Sports Editor

THE Cincinnati Reds, says United Press sports writer Oscar Fraley, claim they put youngsters in the majors faster than any other club in baseball . . . And the Reds point to Redleg third baseman Grady Hatton and pitcher Kent Peterson to prove it. Neither did a stretch in the bush leagues before being parolled out to the Cincinnati club . . . And of their other stars, Ewell Blackwell was kept down only a year, Ed Lively a year and a month, Frank Baumholtz a year and a half . . . Gabe Paul, assistant to Redleg president Warren Giles, admits that the fast ticket to the majors, is a change from the old conservative Red system, under Bill McKechnie, but manager Johnny Neum prefers the youngsters, even if they do make mistakes. It pays off, says Paul, in collecting the finer youngsters, who like nothing so much as a fast crack at the time and hate the thought of trying to keep alive in the bush leagues . . . Paul gives credit to the new Red system for obtaining Lloyd Merriman, Stanford star who was signed with Ogden, Utah in the class C Pioneer league . . . He was jumped almost immediately to clasas A and isn't too far right now from Cincinnati . . . "Our record of pushing the kids along swung him to us," says Paul.

HA, SNORTS Dee Hazen, president of the Marion baseball club whose parent team, the Chicago Cubs, believe in plenty of polishing, that ticket may get them there faster, but it's a two-way fare. Look at the St. Louis Cards and the Dean brothers. They burned out at an age when most pitchers were just getting started. They push them so fast they keep right on going, right out of baseball. . . . The Cubs think four or five years in the minors is just about the right time to turn out a ripe ball player . . . And the Cubs support their minor clubs out of the major league treasury, depending, in fact, on hot dog sales and the like to keep them out of the red . . . Their belief in the five-year plan and solid support of the minors was the big reason why the local ball club divorced the Cards and hooked up with the Cubs.

THE ANNUAL organization banquet for the city softball leagues will be held at the Y. M. C. A. April 14 . . . Besides the managers of the 24 softball teams in the three Y. M. C. A. leagues last year—the Commercial, Industrial, and Church—managers of any new teams are invited to attend . . . Team members of the three winning nines, Schlairet of the Commercial, Commercial Steel of the Industrial, and Forest Lawn of the Church, will be present to receive pennants and Schlairet, City Little World Series champ, will receive a trophy in addition . . . The Veterans of Foreign Wars plans to field a baseball team this spring . . . Other baseball aggregations who operated last year and plan to work this season are the Bluebirds, Independents, and the American Legion Junior baseball teams.

First Inter-School Meet To Be Held in Bexley April 12

Harding High school's track team will open its schedule of 11 track meets April 6 when an intra-mural meet will be held at the stadium, Kenny Somerlot, track coach, announced today.

The meet will get under way at 3:30 p. m. and ribbons will be awarded to winners in five events, he said. The first inter-school meet will be run off at Bexley April 12. Due to the lack of facilities all Harding track meets are scheduled for foreign fields.

Coach Somerlot reports he now has 85 boys out for track, 35 of whom practice regularly, with anywhere from 15 to 25 football and basketball players expected to report for training before the April 6 meet. With the addition of the new boys the total number of tracksters will surpass the century mark.

Won't Cut Until Meet

"Cutting of the squad will not take place before the intra-mural meet," Kenny said. "And then it will be mostly seniors. All sophomores and juniors and returning football and basketball players will be kept on the team," he added.

Among the boys showing promise are Bob Ralston, Howard Tillis and Clarence Smith, all shot putters, and all heaving 40 feet consistently. Ralston has hit 44 feet. The broad jumpers are averaging 18 feet per try, with Dick Gherman, Carl Loreno, Don Barrett, Dick Hazen and Dick Thomas doing the jumping. Hazen and Barrett are both exceptionally adept at the broad jump, both getting 19 feet — and they are only sophomores. "With two years ahead of them and a little hard work the boys might crack some records," Kenny said.

Top 5 Feet in Jump

Jim Bain, Howard Tillis and Warren Osborne are topping five feet in the high jump, and John Moody, Charlie Wright and Don Barrett are reaching nine feet with the help of a pole. Clarence Smith runs the dash in 10.9 for his best time this year (in tennis shoes). He covered the same distance in 10.3 last year. Best time for Gherman is 10.8, and Umbaugh, Bain and Loreno take 11 seconds.

In the longer runs, Umbaugh covers the 220 in 24 seconds, Smith 24.2, Gherman, 24.4, and Roest and Bain, 24.5. Lingrell, Gherman, Wanner, Smith, Castanien, Dickason and Bain all run the 440, with Dick Lingrell marking 57 seconds for the best time. Dickason, Roest, Thomas, Tom Taylor and Wanner run the half-mile in 2:20 or less, with Dickason running 2:15 for a very good high school time.

MICHIGAN SWIMMERS SPORT SLIM LEAD

By The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 26 —Sporting a slim lead, Michigan's well-manned swimming squad today led more than 170 top-flight collegiate tankmen into the full-scale activities of the 25th annual NCAA championships.

Low board diving preliminaries will start things off. Qualification rounds in the 50 and 220-yard free style, 150-yard backstroke and 300-yard medley relay are slated this afternoon, and finals in all five events will be run off in the evening.

Michigan gathered seven points and an early lead last night when Matt Mann III, and Gus Stager placed second and third behind Northwestern's powerful Bill Heusner in the grueling 1,500-meter free style event. Heusner's time was 19:28.2.

In the diving event, today, Ohio State's tillists will open defense of their crown with what is conceded to be the slickest team in the country. The 26 high and low board points are virtually conceded to the Buckeye quartet of Miller Anderson, NCAA king of both events, Bruce Harlan, his runner up, Jack Calhoun and Hobart Billingsley.

Bill Smith, whose condition holds the key to Ohio State's chances of repeating, will be out to defend his NCAA title in the 220-yard free style.

Michigan's crack 300-yard medley relay team of Holiday, Bob Sohl, and Weinberg will have to meet and beat the best to defend its title successfully. Iowa, Purdue and Ohio State also can't be overlooked.

4 College Cage Rules Changed

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 26 — The college basketball rule book is undergoing its annual face-lifting, but there's this consolation for the fans:

The sport will still look like basketball.

The four rules adopted by the National Collegiate Basketball committee yesterday are:

1. A coach can talk to his team at the bench during intermission and timesout. This makes coaching from the bench unnecessary.
2. Substitutes can enter the game merely by reporting to the scorekeeper. All the referee has to do is recognize the player and say, "Come on."
3. A player who is charged with a foul must raise his hand so the spectators can see.
4. All jump balls must be made at the nearest of three six-foot circles. This is to prevent scrambling for positions around the sidelines.

WINNING RUN FOR RED SOX. Neill Sheridan of the Boston Red Sox slides across the plate with the winning run in eighth inning as Catcher Del Rice (right) of St. Louis Cardinals takes throw-in from right field during exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla. Sheridan reached first on an error and scored after Rice threw wide to first base on Bill Goodman's bunt. Boston won, 3 to 2. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

HUGH CASEY OK

By The United Press

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D. R., March 26 — Fears that ace relief pitcher Hugh Casey was seriously ill were quickly dispelled by doctors at the Brooklyn Dodgers' training camp today. Medical examination revealed nothing more serious, however, than a pulled leg muscle in his right leg.

GOOD BETS FOR JOBS

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 26 —Rookie Ritchie Ashburn today appeared a good bet to make the Philadelphia Phillies squad, while Dick Sisler was well on his way to winning the first base job with the St. Louis Cards. Ashburn continued his fine hitting yesterday with a three-run homer in the ninth as the Phils beat the Cards, 9 to 6. Sisler crashed a single and a homer for the Cards, indicating that first-baseman Stan Musial may go back to outfielding.

HUGHSON LOOKS BAD

SARASOTA, Fla., March 26—The Boston Red Sox had the first evidence of the year on pitcher Tex Hughson's arm condition today and it was not cause for celebration. The Sox trimmed the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, 12 to 7, but the edge was taken off the triumph by Hughson's poor showing. He gave up three runs on four hits and three walks in two innings.

KINER SMACKS HOMER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26—Ralph Kiner, the Pittsburgh Pirates' home-run artist, got his circuit clouting for the season under way yesterday with a four-bagger during the Pirates' 6 to 4 victory over the San Francisco Seals.

EMBREE LOOKS GOOD

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26 — Charley (Red) Embree, right-handed pitcher acquired by the New York Yankees from the Cleveland Indians during the winter, looked today like a good investment. Embree gave up only one scratch single in six innings yesterday as the Yankees defeated the Detroit Tigers, 6 to 5. The Yanks got all their runs in the first inning on one hit and six walks against Rufus Gentry.

Y.M.C.A. Quarter-Finals Scheduled for Tonight

The quarter-finals of the Y. M. C. A. Gold Medal tournament will be staged at the "Y" tonight and semi-finals will follow tomorrow.

Headlining tonight's three-game card is the clash at 7:30 p. m. between the Prospect All-Stars and the Tiffin Behm's, both cage powerhouses in their areas. The All Stars won the Prospect Invitational tournament recently and are gunning for the Gold Medal trophy.

The Tiffin Behm's, a smooth outfit composed of all brothers and cousins whose second handle is Behm, have so far shown as one of the top notch clubs in the tournament.

They'll play on the lower court while the Pollak Steel quintet, rejuvenated with Marion St. Mary stars Dick Drake, Bob Stuber, and John Baldauf, tangles with the perennially tough McMillen Feeds boys.

At 8:30 on the upper court, Commercial Steel will take on Delaware Roxy Grill, semi-finalists at Prospect and another high shot tournament threat.

Winners tonight will play in the semi-finals tomorrow and the finals will be held next week.

BOXING ASSOCIATION PRESENTS RATINGS

WASHINGTON, March 26 — The National Boxing association came out with its quarterly ratings today. With the ratings came this complaint from President Abe J. Greene:

"Too many youngsters are in and out of our ratings. They're flashes in the pan, while relative oldsters like Joe Louis, Jersey Joe Walcott, Gus Lesnevich, Tony Zale, Manuel Ortiz, Dave Young and Dado Marino hold top spots and an old timer like Lee Savold pulls a comeback."

A glance at the ratings shows what Greene means. Louis is 33. Walcott, his logical contender to NBA's way of thinking, is 34.

The ratings:

Heavyweight — Champion—Joe Louis, Michigan. Logical contender—Joe Walcott, New Jersey.

Light Heavyweight—Champion—Gus Lesnevich, New Jersey. Logical contender—Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati, O.

Middleweight — Champion — Rocky Graziano, New York. Logical contenders—Marcel Cerdan, France; Tony Zale, Indiana.

Welterweight — Champion — Ray Robinson, New York. Logical contenders—none available.

Lightweight — Champion—Ike Williams, Pennsylvania. Logical contenders—Erique Bolanos, California; Freddie Dawson, Illinois; Rudy Cruz, California.

Featherweight — Champion — Willie Pep, Connecticut. Logical contenders—Joe Sandy Saddler, New York; Charles Riley, Missouri; Carlos Chavez, Californai.

Bantamweight — Champion — Manuel Ortiz, California. Logical contenders—Dave Young, Hawaii; Guido Ferracin, Italy; Peter Kane, England; Louis Galvani, Cuba.

Flyweight — Champion—Rinty Monaghan, Erie. Logical contenders—Dada Marino, Hawaii; Monitos Flores, Mexico; Jackie Paterson, England; Dicky O'Sullivan, England.

Oxford Crew "Ready" To Whip Cambridge

By The United Press

LONDON, March 26 — Oxford university's crew, its appetite for revenge whetted by six months of arduous training, was "physically fit and ready" today to vindicate itself against Cambridge tomorrow in Great Britain's celebrated boat racing classic on the Thames river.

Cambridge inflicted a humiliating 10-length defeat upon Oxford's "Dark Blues" last year but the experts believe that Oxford, which has been exhibiting better form recently, will turn the tables in the 95th renewal tomorrow.

The weather bureau predicted mild, sunny weather for the classic and 1,000,000 spectators are epected to witness the internationally-famous race from various vantage points.

Hank in Top Physical Condition After Weeks of Training with Tribe

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sportswriter

S ANGELES, March 26—This is strictly unofficial, but a fair Hank Greenberg will formally sign with the Cleveland g about April 1.

joke, if any, may be on the opposing American league ding Dizzy Trout, and the rest of laymates at Detroit. Bill Veeck is due to and of course the form, of Greenberg his personal inquiry. himself said, nothing will be decided until returns to its training late this month.

of his signing is several factors, chiefly physical fitness after work as an unofficial of the Cleveland a snarl that has in the club's flossy cracked. It wasn't quite that bad, but .251 hiting isn't par for the Greenberg course.

Trimmed Down

Incidentally, he's down to a trim 220 pounds now, and in five times at bat against "A" competition, he has banged out three hits, including a double just yesterday that must have loosened a brick in the left field wall at Wrigley Field.

He may be slowed down a bit around the bag, but he is still a capable gloveman, a large target for his throwers—and as long as he can put a bat to his shoulder, he's a dangerous hitter.

Since March 1, when the Indians' spring training camp opened, Greenberg has been one of the hardest working athletes and has said that he feels in better condition than he has in six years.

He was a first yesterday as the Indians snapped a ninth-inning tie to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 4.

Walters Picked To Halt Redleg Losses

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., March 26—Bucky Walters, the oldest Redleg in point of service now with the club, was Manager Johnny Neun's hope today of breaking a four-game losing streak.

Neun nominated Bucky, who has been with the Reds since 1938, to pitch the first five innings against the Detroit Tigers. Red Lively will finish the game.

The Rhinelanders went down to their fourth defeat yesterday at the hands of the Boston Red Sox, 12-7.

Tex Hughson, the Boston starter, was an easy touch for the Reds. They scored three runs off him in the first two innings on four hits and three walks, but Boston came back to count four runs in each the third and sixth innings and sew up the game.

Second sacker Bobby Doerr led the 15-hit Boston attack with five for five.

Meyer Aims for Top Deck in First Year at Helm of Pittsburgh Pirates

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SANTA MONICA, Calif.—Optimism runs high in the Pittsburgh baseball camp as Manager Billy Meyer herds the Buccos through training chores.

This is Meyer's debut as a major league manager but if he has any so-called minor league complex, it doesn't show. Asked about it, in fact, Meyer scratched his grey hairs, and said:

THUMBNAIL PREVIEW
PITTSBURGH PIRATES
Pitching—Seasoned.
Catching—Improved.
Infield—Questionable.
Outfield—Fine.
Hitting—Exceptional.
Finish—5 or 6.

Play Same Here

"No, I guess they play ball up there just about the same as we did in the minors."

The pleasant skipper has spent 39 years in the game, including five years as a major league catcher, and is noted as a skilled tactician, a real student of baseball.

The night his appointment was announced, Pittsburgh baseball writer Chili Doyle quoted Joe McCarthy as telling him: "You now have the best manager in the game."

That's high praise, but most sincere, from Marse Joe, and as the pilot of the Yankees in their greater years he had much contact with Meyer, who was the ace of the Yankee farm system, managing, among others, Newark and Kansas City to pennants.

Got Out of Hand

Pittsburgh, or rather some of its players, got out of hand last year and the final day showed them cuddling in a tight embrace with the Phillies in the cellar. So anything Meyer does this year can't help but be silk and velvet.

The Pirates aren't merely aiming at getting out of the cellar, however. They've set their eyes on the first division, and many folks think they'll make it.

The club has hitting, fielding and the possibility of pitching.

Veteran pitchers include Tiny Bonham, Ray Ostermueller, Nick Strincevich, Elmer Riddle and a coterie of ex-Brooklyns, Vic Lombardi, Kirby Higbe and Skeets Gregg.

The outstanding rookie is Bob Chesnes, a $100,000 purchase off his 22-8 season with Lefty O'Doul's San Francisco club last year. Chesnes had a few chips removed from his elbow during the winter but appears to be all right now.

Outfield Is Tops

Pride of the Smoky City, of course, is the outfield, with Ralph (51 homers) Kiner, Dixie Walker, Johnny Hopp, Wally Westlake, Max West and Joe Grace. Grace came from Washington and West is back in the big time after swatting 43 homers for San Diego in the Coast league.

The infield is new in a sense, but Meyer seems unworried about it. Eddie Stevens, a slugging rookie, replaces Hank Greenberg at first, a keystone combination of Romanus Basgall from Fort Worth and Stan Rojek, from Brooklyn, while Frankie Gustine will be back at third. Gustine hit .297 last year, and with catcher Clyde Klutz' .302, figures materially in the attack.

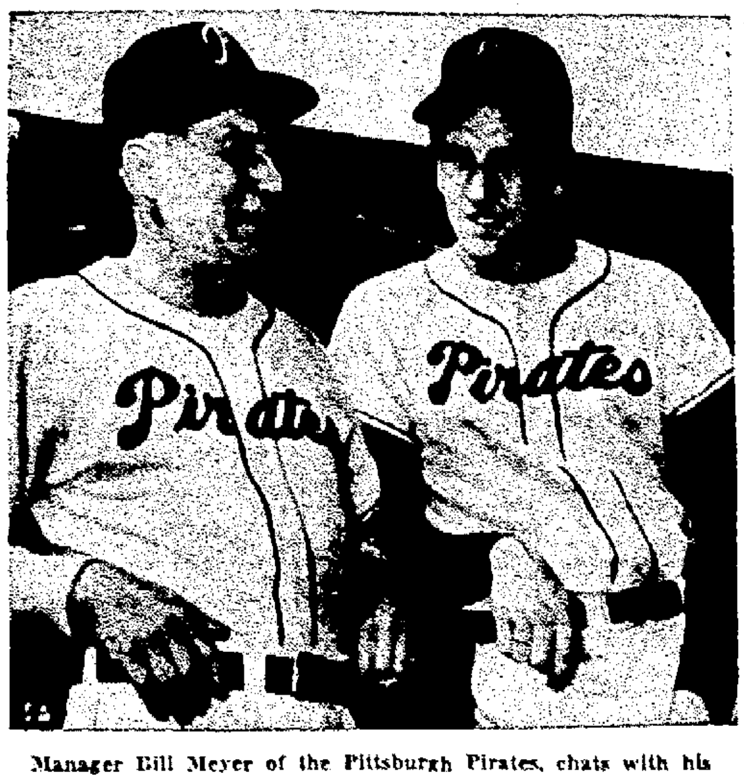
One of the most talked about rookies is catcher Eddie Fitz Gerald, who hit .363 with the Coast league's Sacramento Senators last year.

Meyer has great faith in young Stevens, up from Montreal, but the veteran West, or Hopp, can handle the bag if needed.

Pleased with Spirit

Gone are some of the players who contributed to low morale on the 1947 team, and Meyer is admittedly pleased with the new spirit. He can be a strict disciplinarian but his friends say he has unquestioned ability in handling players, particularly youngsters.

Things are looking up for Pittsburgh.



Manager Bill Meyer of the Pittsburgh Pirates, chats with his top player, home run king Ralph Kiner.

Estes, Orth Win Wrestling Matches

Balk Estes pinned Bill Murray with a rolling short-arm scissors hold last night to win the first fall of a three-fall match at the Armory, in a struggle Promoter Les Fishbaugh describes as "fast and clever." Balk tried the same hold in the second fall, but Murray slipped the hold and countered with one of his own to take the fall. Estes won the third fall and the match with a flip and pin.

In the second main go, Paul Orth pinned Jack Kelley by throwing dirty punches, but Kelley came back to take the second with a grape vine. The referee had to pull the matmen apart at the bell. Orth ended the third fall in good time after punching Kelley all around the ring and falling on him for the pin. Delbert Zwolle and Gerald Darnell wrestled to a draw in a 10-minute paperweight preliminary.

EMBREE ALLOWS SINGLE BINGLE IN 6 INNINGS

By The Associated Press

SARASOTA, Fla., March 26 — Charley Embree has just about clinched a starting pitching berth with the New York Yankees.

The curve-balling righthander shutout the Detroit Tigers on one hit for six innings yesterday, the longest a Yankee pitcher has worked so far.

In addition to a scratch hit, Embree walked one batter.

Ohio College Nines Win 1 of 3 in South

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 26 — Ohio college baseball teams snatched only one victory in three games yesterday against southern opposition.

Ohio State university's Buckeye baseballers, currently in a Texas tour, fell before the University of Texas, 8-6, at Austin, Tex.

Washington and Lee university conquered Ohio Wesleyan, 9-4, in a loosely played contest at Lexington, Va.

Ohio university, however, opened its season with a 2-0 win over Presbyterian college at Clinton, S. C.

Outfielder Raymond Gebhardt clubbed a three-run homer in the seventh inning against pitcher Bobby Layne of Texas—the only really effective blow the Buckeyes could collect off Layne in six innings. Pete Perini held Texas to six hits, but his mates made an equal number of errors.

LEADS CHARLOTTE OPEN

By The Associated Press

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 26 —Smiling Pete Cooper of Ponte Vedra, Fla., who makes only a few tournament appearances each year, led the field with an opening 65 as the $10,000 Charlotte Open Golf tourney swung into its second round today. The curly-haired father of three children was the No. 1 man of a day-long first round birdie shoot, but despite his seven-under par 33-32 for the 6,410-yard Myers park course he had 14 rivals within three strokes of him.
